

CORPORATE PACKAGES

Get your team out of their comfort zone — and into nature!

Looking for a staff reward, executive retreat or team building experience which gives back? Our rewarding nature experiences feature national parks, private conservation reserves, iconic scenery, outdoor activities, and wildlife.

Naturewise eco-tours offer comfortable touring in nature, while our eco-projects provide more active, hands-on adventures. All tours support conservation efforts across Australia and New Zealand, making a valuable impact.

Destination examples include Little Desert, Woodlands Wildlife Reserve, Sydney Harbour National Parks, Grampians National Park and Great Ocean Road, Kangaroo Island, Tasmania, Broome's Kimberley Coast in Western Australia, Kakadu and Arnhem Land, Far North Queensland and the West Coast of New Zealand.

Naturewise Eco Escapes is owned by Australasia's largest not-for-profit conservation organisation – Conservation Volunteers. Trips range from 1-day to multi-day tours across a variety of themes and experiences:

- Nature and wildlife
- Walking adventures
- Hands-on conservation and research
- National parks and private conservation reserves
- Camping through to boutique eco lodges
- Aboriginal and Indigenous culture

Choose from our range of group experiences or tailor a program to suit your needs. We operate across Australia and in several New Zealand locations.

ABOUT NATUREWISE

Our carefully designed experiences take you off the beaten track, and behind the scenes to showcase the best of nature and wildlife. Tour itineraries provide an exceptional way for people to experience a destination – by learning about the natural values of the areas visited, or getting directly involved in the conservation of its wildlife, plants and landscapes. Many of our experiences provide exclusive access to areas and opportunities to meet local conservation champions, researchers or environmental experts.

Choose from a range of experiences to suit your needs, travel style and trip length - from 1-day to multi day tours. Our eco-tours offer comfortable touring in nature, while our eco-projects provide more active, hands-on adventures and research expeditions.

Eco - tours

On our eco-tours you'll enjoy close-up interactions with wildlife and nature, while gaining an exclusive insight into the conservation importance of areas visited. This is your chance to stray from the beaten path and learn about wildlife, indigenous cultural and eco-systems from local specialists.

- Explore real conservation sites, national parks and conservation reserves
- Meet the local wildlife and see breath-taking natural beauty
- All profits from these tours go directly into supporting conservation.

Eco - projects

On our eco-projects you'll get hands-on in conservation. Spend time exploring special places and take part in conservation or research activities. Your contribution will make a real difference to the success of conservation projects.

- Hands-on conservation and research activities, typically make up 25 - 50% of the trip
- Time to explore the local surrounds – view wildlife, enjoy guided walks, specialist tours, educational talks and visiting National Parks.

CONSERVATION VOLUNTEERS

Conservation Volunteers is Australasia's leading conservation organisation. With over 30 years operating experience and 30 offices located around Australia and New Zealand, we involve over 10,000 people every year in programs that make a difference to the conservation of our environment and wildlife. We've been recognised with many significant awards, including the United Nations' Environment Program Global 500, 6 Banksia Foundation Awards, Ecotourism Award and multiple Tourism Awards.

ECO CERTIFIED

We are an Eco Certified operator with Ecotourism Australia. The independent accreditation recognises our commitment to environmental best practice and contribution to conservation, while providing our customers with an opportunity to learn about the environment. Being an accredited business means consumers can be confident of receiving a professional, high quality and genuine ecotourism experience.
